since then switzerland has signed a number of agreements that have shown the intent from the government that it is keen to shrug off its famous veil of secrecy they occur most commonly in people aged in the twenties and are more common in men